Death Penalty for Looters;

MADRID, July 23—Virtual martial law was proclaimed in Madrid today, as the Left Wing government, claiming smashing victory over the Fascist rebels, throughout the country, moved in westward reprisal against all "reactionaries and capitalists."

Seizure of property was accompanied by an announcement that any person disturbing the peace will be subjected to punishment. Death was the penalty for looters. Warning was issued that they will be severely punished. Meanwhile, the government flatly refused to issue any casualty figures for the series of battles waged about Madrid.

Led by Communists, members of the Chamber of Deputies, 6000 volunteers and 5,000 militia men marched northward from Madrid to meet the main rebels — those of General Emilio Mola's army of nearly 30,000, streaming in three columns down from Burgos.

This announcement was made in spite of the earlier claim by the government that Mola's columns had been "routed" on the height of Buitraro, 36 miles from Madrid.

GIBRALTAR, July 23—British naval shells burst near Spanish airplanes today as the destroyer Wildswan fired warning blasts at Spanish airplanes which dropped a number of bombs near the Wildman over Tarifa, southernmost tip of Spain.

Undamaged, the Wildswan put back into Gibraltar. It was not immediately known whether the airplane was piloted by Spanish rebels or loyalists.

One Dead, Another Dying
From Gift Bomb

Cape Charles, Va., July 23 — The torn bits of Curry Thomas' body lay in an undertaker's basket today. His bride of a month, with both hands blown off, was dying in a hospital, unable to tell postal inspectors about the "wedding present bomb" which he received from the mail, and which exploded when they unwrapped it. Thomas was 48 and a prosperous farmer. His bride, Elsie, is 35.

Investigators started to check the former farm hands of Thomas and a discarded admirer of the bride.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS
FOR NURSING SERVICEMorrisville in Need of Money
To Carry On the Work
This Year

NAME THE SOLICITORS

MORRISVILLE, July 23—A call has been issued by Mrs. Charles Metz, chairman of the nursing committee, for funds with which to carry on the activities of the Morrisville community nursing service. Every resident of Morrisville and vicinity, which is also covered by the service, is asked for a final contribution.

Solicitors have been canvassing the borough and surrounding districts, and Mrs. Metz urges those who have not already contributed to send in a contribution to her or to Mrs. William Burgess, treasurer of the Red Cross. The call is also issued to those who have given but feel that they can afford to give again to this important cause.

Mrs. Joseph Schermerhorn, chairman of the Nursing Committee, outlines the service of this organization as follows: to help provide skilled nursing for the sick in their homes; help promote health of the individual, family and community; and to aid in preventing disease by teaching principles of health, hygiene and sanitation.

The territory served by the service includes Morrisville, Penns Manor, Penn Valley, Fallstown, Edgemoor, Gardons and Arborlea. The service is made possible because of the aid and contributions from members of these communities.

The annual report of the nurse reveals that the service rendered has been of inestimable value. All types of diseases were treated, all types of homes were visited, and the results have been encouraging to the community and to the individual.

The report shows that 586 visits were made to 119 ill patients and 198 visits were made for child welfare work. In addition, there were 172 visits for adult health supervision and 213 to schools and homes of school children.

Forty visits were also made to two tubercular patients and 87 visits were made to 28 prenatal cases. Seventy-three visits were made to 15 obstetrical cases; 77 visits to new born babies, and there were 274 children inspected in the schools, as well as 349 interviews, assistance to teachers in classroom inspection, and assistance to the school physician in administering toxoid to 21 children.

Eighty-one of the patients cared for were given free treatment, 12 paid in full, and 76 were paid for by insurance companies, according to the report. It was pointed out that two life insurance companies pay for nursing service to their industrial policyholders.

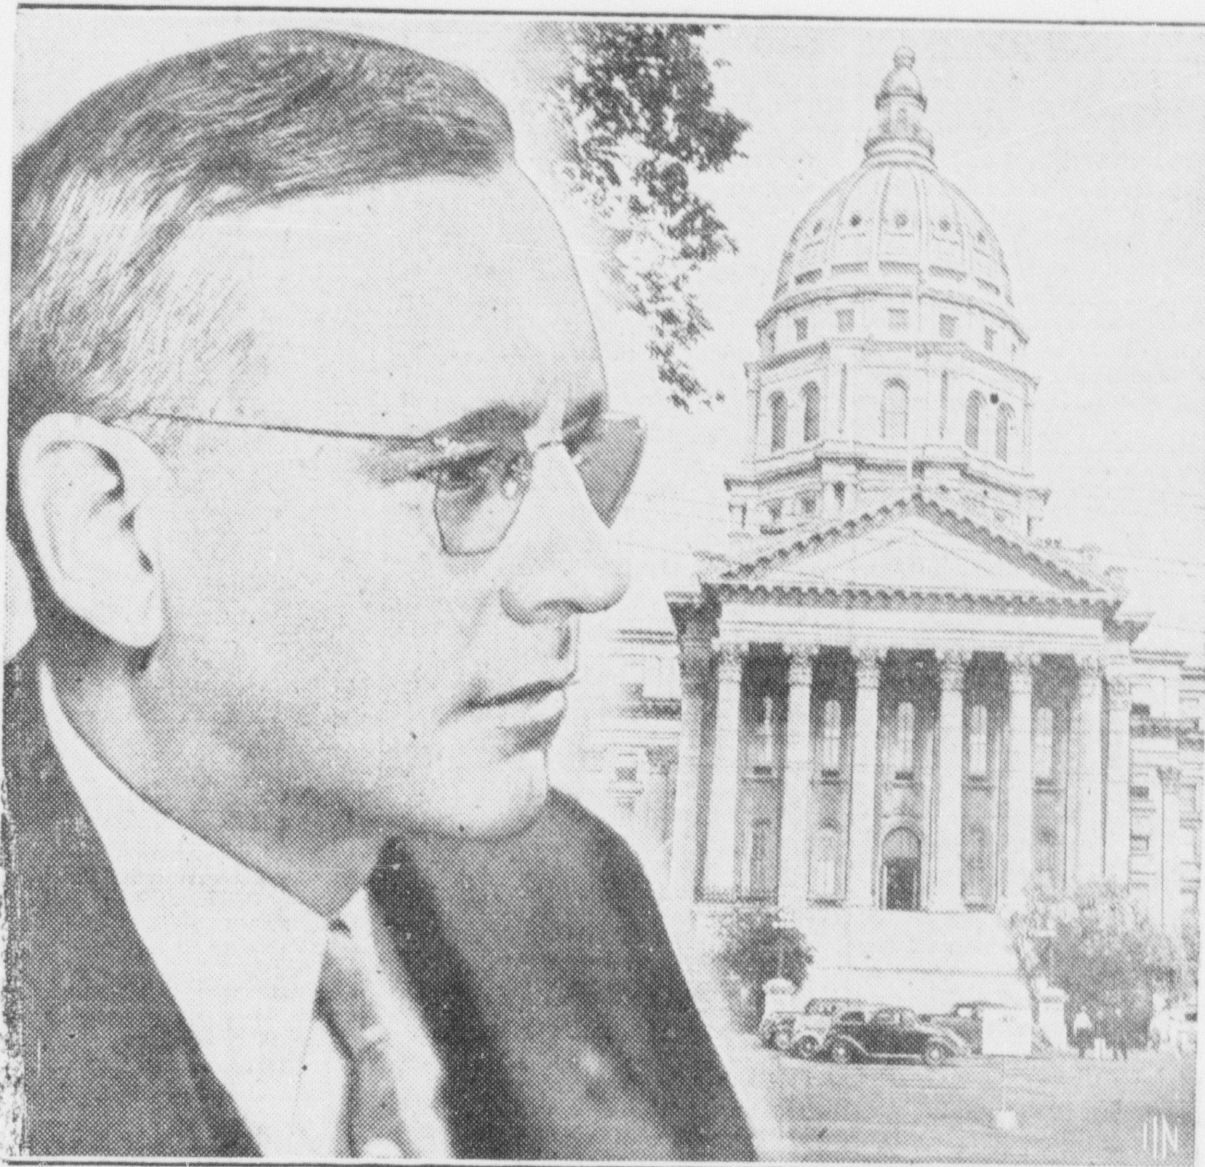

A nominal charge is made by the nursing service where bedside care is given if the individual can afford to pay. But regardless of this question she is always ready to serve and the campaign should be supported. The office of the nurse is at the Morrisville Community House and the daily hours are from 8:30 to 9 in the morning, except on Sundays, and from 1:30 to 2 in the afternoon each day except Saturdays and Sundays. Other work mentioned in the report includes the following services rendered by the nurse:

Medical treatment secured for eight cases, surgical treatment for two children, maternity care for three mothers, correction of eye defects for eight persons, dental corrections for five persons, orthopaedic treatment for two persons, chest examinations for five persons, mental examination for one child, other hospital care for two persons, hospital dispensary treatment for 12 persons, and admission to tuberculosis camp for one child.

CHILDREN ADMITTED FREE

Those in charge of the Harriman Hospital lawn fete announce that children accompanying their parents to the lawn fete, will be admitted free of charge. Nightly, groups of adults and children are enjoying the many attractions at the fete on the hospital grounds.

EXPECT CROWD OF 10,000

By William K. Hutchinson

TOPEKA, Kansas, July 23—Mighty bodies of Republicans converged here from every State in the Union, entering this capital city of a typical prairie State today to honor Governor Alfred M. Landon, as he accepts the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

With the eyes of the nation upon him, the Governor held open house in his capital office. The notification and his acceptance of the high honor will be staged at 8:00 central standard time, on the south lawn of the State House.

Fifteen special trains and thousands of motor cars poured in enthusiastic Republicans upon Topeka. A crowd of 100,000 was expected to attend the ceremony tonight. While Republicans from every State were in evidence, the bulk of the crowd appeared to be farmers, workers, and average citizens, trekking from their homes in Kansas and adjoining States to see and hear the first Middle Westerner named for the Presidency by the Republican Party since Abraham Lincoln.

The address, it was indicated, will constitute a plain talk by one family man to his fellow countrymen on current issues. It will be free of criticism of the New Deal and it will outline a constructive program for capturing American prosperity.

SECURE NEW DIRECTOR

ANDALUSIA, July 23—Because of the incapacitation of one of the leading members of the Kings Theatre Guild the play, "Hawk Island," will not be presented on July 31 as formerly announced. A meeting is planned, however, for the resumption of full activity during the month of August. A new director has been secured for the organization, William Patberg, and upon his return from Texas, a regular program will be initiated.

During July the members of the company have been traveling to different sections and viewing the activity and work of other theatre guilds. One trip was made to Yeaton where the group visited the "Toy Theatre." They also visited the University of Pennsylvania to see the "Jitney Players."

Two new members have been accepted into full membership in the group: Ernest Orazi, Bristol, and Miss Edith Stover, Holmesburg.

Under the direction of the new director, who is also a teacher of music and elocution as well as a professional play director, the group plans to give a reproduction of the play, "Suppressed Desires," at the Church of the Redeemer in Andalusia, on August 22. The affair is sponsored by the St. Agnes Guild of that Church. The company has inaugurated a new plan which will be followed in the future, whereby their Summer play successes will be reproduced in the Winter at a nominal fee.

DISCHARGE HOBENSACK
ON ACCIDENT CHARGE"Not A True Bill" is Returned
Against Doylestown
Man

TWO WERE KILLED

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, July 23—Bucks County's Deputy Register of Wills, Harry S. Hobensack, previously charged with involuntary manslaughter in the deaths of two men in an automobile accident, was discharged yesterday when the Grand Jury of Cape May County returned "not a true bill" against the Doylestown man.

Besides the discharge of Hobensack the Grand Jury's findings also ignored a bill against Joseph West, 22, 227 N. 18th street, Philadelphia, also charged with involuntary manslaughter in the accident.

The accident for which the men were held occurred at Rio-Grande, near Wildwood, N. J., on June 10. Two men were killed and three injured in the collision.

In the party of Bucks County men that Hobensack was driving to an Atlantic shore resort on a fishing trip were Earl Yost, 35, Ottaville farmer, and Stanley Evans, 45, Kintnersville coal yard operator, both of whom were killed in the accident. Others in the car included Hobensack, Abraham Good, 75, Ottaville, and Joseph F. West, 48, Doylestown, all of whom were injured but have since recovered.

The other car in the accident was driven by West accompanied by his uncle, Larry West, 50, Wildwood, N. J. Both of these men were slightly injured, but have also since recovered. Witnesses called before the Grand Jury were two New Jersey State troopers who investigated the accident.

Bucks Co. Fruit Growers
Tour Berks County

Seventy-five Bucks County members of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Fruit Growers Association joined with more than 400 other members in a tour of orchards in Berks county on Tuesday, according to a statement issued by County Agent William F. Greenawalt today.

The company, composed of growers from Montgomery, Northampton, Lehigh, Carbon, Delaware, Chester, Philadelphia, Lebanon, and Bucks counties, made the tour in 125 automobiles.

Mr. Greenawalt also stated that observations indicate that the fruit crop in Berks county will be more uniform than in Bucks county, especially in the apple and peach orchards.

Visits were paid by the Bucks county growers to the orchards of Clarence Crossman, near Esthacks, and the Lenape and Funk orchards in the Boyertown section.

Following lunch, which was held at Mountain Top in Reading, there was a discussion of orchard management and spray problems. State specialists, including J. U. Ruer, R. S. Kirby, and J. O. Pepper were the speakers.

The afternoon journey included visits to orchards near Reading. Orchards in the neighboring county of Berks were found to be in good condition in general.

Food Relief Orders

It affects about 419 families in Montgomery County and 331 families in Bucks County. Those families in both counties cared for from the Pottstown District Office, whose orders are sent on Mondays, were sent orders this week with the last of the money available.

Rollicking Comedy Now
Showing at Grand Theatre

"Dancing Pirate," the rollicking romantic comedy today and Friday at the Grand Theatre, again places Pioneer Pictures to the forefront in the production of full-color Technicolor films. The triumph of the company's two-reel "La Cucaracha" is well remembered.

The picture features a hilarious series of embarrassing situations encountered by Frank Morgan, as the Alcalde of a Spanish pueblo, and by Charles Collins in the title role adventuring in a romance with Steffi Duna. Collins, regarded as the screen find of the season, is fresh from many great triumphs on the stages of New York and London. Morgan's portrayal is said to rival his "Duke" in "The Affairs of Cellini."

Hot Weather and Dry Spell
Cause Serious Damage
To Crops

By Staff Correspondent

MORRISVILLE, July 23—Crop reports from this end of the county indicate that weather conditions have been more severe than in a number of years. The King Farms Company has been forced to reduce its labor force to about 600 employees. Normally, during this season of the year, there are more than 1,500 on the payroll here.

The current hot weather and dry spell has caused serious damage on these farms. Late plantings of carrots show very thin stands. Production has been seriously reduced. Beans, which are one of the principal vegetable crops in this corner of the County, have been so seriously affected that the volume is less than 25% of normal, and the quality is very poor. Likewise, cucumbers have been seriously affected by the poor weather conditions.

Officials at the King Farms say that of the number of very local showers that have been passing over the section very little rain has fallen here. They are still waiting for a good rain.

Incidentally, this is perhaps the largest single-unit vegetable operation in the East. A large part of the ground of the King Farms Co., comprising 6,000 acres, of which 1,800 are farmed intensively to vegetables, was included in the original Manor Tract of William Penn.

During the past few weeks night dusting has been one of the activities of this Company. Huge tractors, equipped with headlights, sometimes operate all night spraying the dust on vegetable crops in the fight against insects.

Occasionally, an airplane has been used for this dusting operation, and although it has not as yet been employed this season, Karl C. King, general manager of this highly mechanized and industrialized farm organization, indicates that it may be used later in the season.

Mr. King explained that the dusting is done at night because of the greater effectiveness due in part to the moisture formation which appears at night and holds the dust. In the heat of the day the sun quickly dries out the plants and the dust is likely to be blown off with the appearance of a breeze.

Some of the equipment of this totally mechanized commercial operation include: $85,000 invested in farm machinery; a labor force that at times runs over 1,500, but which during the last ten days has been cut to 600; 35 tractors; 40 trucks, including one tractor-trailer; and some 3,578 acres of land under cultivation, divided up into 87 individual fields. There is not a horse on the grounds.

At a large low office in the packing building Karl King sits at his desk and directs and controls this vast project. Each day the Trenton weather bureau is called and reports given; fields and men are numbered; on file are records of each truck and tractor, its cost and present value; the various city markets are tabulated by distance, type, and character. A daily record is kept listing all shipments, prices, field operations, receipts and payments. Telephones reach out over the farms and beyond to the buyers in various markets.

KNOWLEDGE OF WORDS

If one were to get up a debate on what is the world's most valuable tool, it might be claimed that words are entitled to that honor. When people first arranged certain sounds in the form of words to express their ideas, they moved from barbarism into civilization. By the use of language made up of words, man power of persuasion, he becomes able to direct the labor of others, he leads social and political movements.

If a person expects to do anything in life other than the plainest kind of hand work, he needs to acquire a good knowledge of words. If he knows many words, he becomes able to persuade others of the merit of his ideas and teach them how to do useful things. Salesmanship, political success, and many other arts are based on the effective use of words in conveying ideas. But if a person knows only a few words, the world sets him down as a person of limited intelligence.

It has been claimed that educated persons are familiar with at least 25,000 words. That may be doubted. Yet most educated persons would find that in a dictionary of 1000 pages, they know an average of 25 words on each page, so the 25,000 estimate does not seem unlikely.

A knowledge of many words accomplishes little unless people have a fairly correct idea of their meaning and pronunciation.

Constant reading is the way by which anyone can acquire a good knowledge of words. Many college graduates who have no pronounced literary taste, know fewer words than many constant newspaper readers who never even graduated from any high school.

RAIN AND POLITICS

We do not know just exactly what relation rain may have to politics, except that they used to say that a rainy election day in almost any northern State was a premiss of Democratic success. Still, we have rather outgrown the pioneering conditions which were the basis of that aphorism.

What we have in mind, at the moment, is just this: Lloyd C. Stark, Democratic candidate for governor of Missouri, was addressing a crowd in a town in the center of the drought area of that state. He expressed the hope that before he got through his listeners would be soaked. And they were. Within fifteen minutes there was a heavy rain. The last previous rain fell the day that Jesse W. Barrett, Republican candidate for governor, spoke there.

Just what political arguments are to be based on these incidents we shall be interested in learning. The opening is obvious. Barrett brought rain. But his rain was followed by continued drought. Stark brings rain. We are still to learn whether his rain also will be followed by drought. If so, then the opening becomes promptly closed and a stalemate ensues. In that case the political issue must be reduced to a rain-making basis of who can do the trick oftener and better.

We have a notion that a large part of the country would be delighted to put the solution of its political problems on some such concrete and visible basis.

The "Typical Prairie State" allusion proved a cross between a dead cat and a boomerang.

Crops Seriously Affected In Lower Bucks County

Early in the morning this former journalist and school teacher may be found in conference with his production manager and partner, Alvan C. Thompson. Together they check the weather reports. And together they decide on the program for the day, with Mr. Thompson taking direct charge of all production operations.

If the result of a conference is a decision to plant spinach in Field 26 because showers are anticipated, it is Mr. Thompson who walks out of the conference room and starts the machinery which results in the appearance of a half dozen tractors on field 26 to prepare the ground. And this takes less than a half hour.

Three of the tractors draw plowshares which cut the soil, three furrows at a time. A fourth follows with a harrow that has two rows of discs to level the ground. The next drops fertilizer behind it. In the rear is the most complicated machine of the six.

Attached to it is another harrow; in back of that three cylinders of steel which smash and flatten whatever lumps of earth remain, and finally, an even finer harrow which leaves the field as smooth as a limpid lake. Then comes the machine to do the actual planting. This machine drops the seeds, twelve rows side by side, a foot apart. And in about four hours the field is ready for the showers.

The trucks cover all the eastern markets including: New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Boston, Wilkes-Barre, Altoona, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, Albany, Providence, and New Haven. Beans, cucumbers and cabbage are shipped in refrigerated railroad cars to Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Green leafy vegetables, such as spinach and broccoli, are packed in containers and iced for transportation. The ice is packed inside the container with the vegetable.

Besides the male help at this trucking center there are approximately 75 girls employed in the packing house, and more with the temporary bean picking gangs. In addition, there are a number of college students studying agriculture who are employed here during the summer months, coming from Penn State, Rutgers and Cornell.

SUDDEN DEATH

Death, like lightning, strikes at most unexpected times and places. It is no respecter of race, age or position.

Whoever imagined that Mrs. Griffin would be shot down on a beautiful June evening while walking along the street? It is safe to say that she never dreamed of it. Yet it happened—AND—we paid the claim submitted by her husband who was the beneficiary under her policy. He writes:

"I want to thank you for the prompt manner in which you settled the death claim of my wife, Marian Griffin, who was insured in your Society under Certificate No. 286327 on March 11, 1935.

On June 17, 1936, while walking on Ashmead Street, east of Germantown Avenue, she was shot in the head, and, as a consequence died shortly after.

In due course the claim was presented at your office and today I called and received your check in full settlement of the claim.

I am very grateful for your kind attention and courtesy in this matter.

Yours very truly,

Richard Griffin,

5163 Rubicum Street."

Perhaps you think this could not happen to you, but some day this may be your misfortune.

We advise you to prepare for any such emergency by insuring your life today.

LANDRETH'S SEEDS WINS
OVER BACHARACH GIANTS

With "Jake" Prall pitching six hit balls and his team mates hitting and fielding like demons, the Landreth Seeds surprised the Bacharach Giants here last night and romped away with an easy win, 8 to 1.

The visitors from the Jersey resort were fortunate to score. Dougherty's hurried throw on Burbage's safe bunt went wild to open the visitors' fourth inning and the runner pulled up at second from whence he scored their lone run on Clayton's single.

The "Farmers" opened up on Jackson, a southpaw, the Bacharach's starting pitcher, and drove him to cover in less than two innings, registering three hits in the opening inning and two more in the second and scoring three runs before he was relieved by J. Robinson. Malmesbury helped to banish Jackson making a two-base hit in the first and a three base hit in the second.

The Landreths collected fourteen hits, five of Jackson and nine from Robinson, four were extra base hits.

In the field the "Farmers" made two lightning double plays and again thrilled the crowd.

Next Monday evening the Landreth Seeds will meet the Trenton team of the New York-Penn. League. This team was recently transferred from York, Pa., to the Capital City.

A special meeting of the Bristol Bowling Association will be held at the Recreation Center Tuesday evening, August 4th, at 8:30 p. m. (d. s. t.). All captains of teams which will compete this year in the leagues are urgently requested to attend or send a member of the team to act as representative.

The principal purpose of this meeting is to complete arrangements to affiliate the Bristol Bowling Association with the American Bowling Congress, prior to the opening of the 1936-7 bowling season.

The A. B. C. tournament will be held in New York this season and a number of teams have stated their willingness to take this trip and compete in the tournament. In order for teams to enter it will be necessary for the teams and league in which they play this season to be a member of the American Bowling Congress and it is desired to have all arrangements completed prior to September 1st.

Individuals or organizations in or around Bristol desiring to affiliate with a team or league at the Bristol Recreation Center are invited to this meeting or they can contact Mr. F. J. O'Boyle, proprietor of the Recreation Center, who will furnish any information desired.

It is contemplated this season to have an active women's organization which will have a strong representative team to compete in home and home matches and if a sufficient number of women can be found interested, a local league will be formed.

HULMEVILLE A. A. WINS
OVER BORDENTOWN NINE

BORDENTOWN, July 23—Hulmeville A. A. belted five Bordentown hurlers for a total of 17 hits here last night as they trounced the first half champions of the Delaware River League, 12-0, in a one-sided affair. As Hulmeville was short a player and borrowed Sabo from the Jersey team, it is most likely that Bordentown will take the game on a forfeit.

"Pete" Firce pitched wonderful ball for the Hulmevilleites and allowed the Eagles but seven hits which were kept well-scattered. He struck out six. Salara started on the hill for Bordentown but lasted until the second when eight runs by the 1935 champions started a parade of pitchers.

Howard Black had four hits to lead the hitters with Andy Pfaffenrath and Stan Carlen close behind with three each. Every player on the Hulmeville team with the exception of the borrowed player, Sabo, got at least one hit.

ST. ANN'S CAPTURES
FOURTH STRAIGHT GAME

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Schedule for Tonight—
WHITE ELEPHANTS vs. 3RD WARD
(Landreth's field)
ODD FELLOWS vs. A. O. H.
(Leedom's field)

St. Ann's A. A. captured its fourth straight win of the Bristol Twilight League second half race last night on the Bath Road diamond, beating the White Elephants, 5-3. Three runs in the first half of the sixth gave the triumph to the Saints.

The opposing hurlers were Charlie Whyno for the winners, and Spike Tryon, for the losers. The Saints found Tryon very difficult to solve, getting but three hits. Their tallies were indirectly the results of passes and errors. The Elephants did not have an easy time with Whyno for he set down eleven via the strikeout route and only six connected for safeties.

The leading batter of the fray was Charlie Thrig who nailed Whyno for a double on his first trip to the plate and hit for singles in the third and fifth frames. Other hits went to Oppman, Lake and Bobby Hughes. Mike DeRisi who had hit safely in every game he participated in this season was stopped by Tryon.

FOUR COUNTRIES WANT
NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES

BERLIN, July 23—(INS)—Four countries, Japan, Finland, Italy and Great Britain, have registered their claims with the international Olympic Committee to get the next Olympic Games in 1940.

Tokyo seems to be the most ambitious candidate. Apparently convinced that Japanese athletics will have made sufficient progress by then to come out as the first nation of the world in Olympic sports, the Japanese sports authorities have already guaranteed that suitable stadiums and accommodations will be provided.

Helsingfors, Finland, has already built an Olympic stadium and convinced Count Baillet Latour, president of the international committee, of its ability to be host to the cream of international athletes. The Finnish authorities, however, indicated their willingness to withdraw their claim for the 1940 Games if the international committee would award them the 1944 event.

Now, Lord Burghley as president of the British Olympic Committee, has forwarded to the international committee a formal invitation by the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Percy Vincent, to hold the 1940 Games in London. The Lord Mayor reminds the committee of the fact that Great Britain saved the Games in 1908 when Rome in the very last minute withdrew its claims. The British Olympic committee would be guaranteed an Olympic fund of at least 100,000 pounds for preparing the Games, it was said.

While the final verdict will be given by the international Olympic committee at its Berlin meeting late this month, it appears at present that the Italian claim for the next Olympic Games does not have so much chance at present, England and Japan seem to be provided.

Since the Games were revived in 1896, at Athens, through Baron Pierre de Coubertin, the great French teacher, they have been held at the following centers:

1900, Paris; 1904, St. Louis, U. S. A.; 1908, London; 1912, Stockholm; 1920, Antwerp; 1924, Paris; 1928, Amsterdam; 1932, Los Angeles, U. S. A.

LONDON ACCEPTS G. O. P. NOMINATION WITH "MAN TO MAN" TALK TO AMERICAN PUBLIC; CAMPAIGN NOW WELL UNDER WAY

Governor and Republican Candidate Presents As His Goal A Well-Administered Government, Keeping Peace With the World; Saving the Tax-Payers Money and Offering All An Opportunity to Gain a Job.

By William K. Hutchinson
L. N. S. Staff Correspondent

TOPEKA, Kan., July 24—After accepting the Republican presidential nomination with a "man to man" talk to the American public, Governor Alfred M. Landon today began preparation for his campaign to capture the White House in November.

He presented as his goal, a well-administered government, keeping peace with the world, saving the tax-payers' money and offering every man and woman an opportunity to gain a job, a home, reasonable security and the "right to live according to the American tradition."

The text of Governor Landon's speech accepting the Republican nomination for President follows:

Mr. Chairman, members of the notification committee, ladies and gentlemen:

I accept the nomination of the Republican Party for the presidency of the United States. In accepting this leadership, I pray for Divine guidance to make me worthy of the faith and the confidence which you have shown in me.

This call, coming to one whose life has been that of the everyday American, is proof of that freedom of opportunity which belongs to the people under our Government. It carries with it both an honor and a responsibility. In a republic these cannot be separated.

Tonight, facing this honor and responsibility, I hope for the gift of simple and straightforward speech. I want every man and woman in this nation to understand my every word, for I speak of issues deeply concerning us all.

Stands by Constitution

The citizen who assumes the direction of the executive branch of our Government takes an oath that he will "faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will," to the best of his ability, "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States." This oath carries the obligation so to use executive power that it will fulfill the purposes for which it was delegated.

No man, in common good faith to his fellow citizens, may rightfully assume the duties of the high office of Chief Executive and take the oath that goes with the office, unless he shall intend to keep and shall keep his oath inviolate.

It is with a full understanding of the meaning of this oath that I accept this nomination.

The 1936 platform of the Republican Party has my complete adherence. It sets out the principles by which we can achieve the full national life that our resources entitle us to enjoy.

There is not time to lay our whole program before you tonight; I can touch only upon a few phases of it. The others, I hope to discuss with you in detail as the campaign progresses.

Time to Pull Together

I intend to approach the issues fairly, as I see them, without rancor or passion. If we are to go forward permanently, it must be with a united nation—not with a people torn by appeals to prejudice and divided by class feeling.

The time has come to pull together.

No people can make headway where great numbers are supported in idleness. There is no future on the relief rolls. The law of this world is that man shall eat bread by the sweat of his brow. The whole American people want to work at full time and at full pay. They want homes, and a chance for their children, reasonable security, and the right to live according to American standards. They want to share in a steady progress. We bind ourselves with a pledge we shall not ignore, thrust aside, or forget to develop our whole energy to bringing these things about.

The world has tried to conquer this depression by different methods. None of them has been fully successful. Too frequently recovery has been hindered, if not defeated, by political considerations.

Our own country has tried one economic theory after another. The present Administration asked for, and received, extraordinary powers upon the assurance that these were to be temporary. Most of its proposals did not follow familiar paths to recovery. We knew they were being undertaken hastily and with little deliberation.

Hits Roosevelt Policies

But because the measures were supposed to be temporary, because everybody hoped they would prove successful, and because the people wanted the Administration to have a fair trial, Congress and the country united in support of its efforts at the outset.

Now it becomes our duty to examine the record as it stands. The record shows that these measures did not fit together into any definite program of recovery. Many of them worked at cross-purposes and defeated themselves. Some developed into definite hindrances to recovery. They had the effect generally of extending control by Washington into the remotest corners of the country. The frequent and sudden changes in the Administration's policy caused a continual uneasiness. As a result, recovery has been set back again and again. This was not all of the failure. Practical progress has suffered the disheartening experience of seeing many liberal objectives discredited during the past three years by careless thinking, unworkable laws and incompetent administration.

"The nation has not made the durable progress, either in reform or recovery, that we had the right to expect.

For it must be remembered that the welfare of our people is not recorded on the financial pages of the newspapers. It cannot be measured in stock market prices. The real test is to be found in the ability of the average American to engage in business, to obtain a job, to be self-supporting and a self-respecting member of his community.

"New Deal" Failure

Judged by the things that make us a nation of happy families, the New Deal has fallen far short of success. The proof of this is in the record. The record shows that in 1933 the primary need was jobs for the unemployed. The record shows that in 1936 the primary need still is jobs for the unemployed.

The time has come to stop this fumbling with recovery. American initiative is not a commodity to be delivered in pound packages through a governmental bureau. It is a vital force in the life of our nation and it must be freed!

The country is ripe for recovery. We are far behind in expenditures for upkeep and improvements and for expansion. The total of this demand—in industry, in new enterprises, in our homes and on our farms—amounts to billions of dollars. Once all this consumer demand is released, the problem will be not where to find work for the workers, but where to find workers for the work.

One of the signs of the ending of past depressions was the launching of new business ventures. It is true that most of them were small. Altogether, however, they provided work for many millions of people. In the present depression this demand for work has not yet appeared. Few new ventures have been started. Why? Because the small business man, the working man who would like to become his own boss—the average American—has hesitated to start out for himself. He lacks confidence in the soundness of Federal policy; he is afraid of what may come next.

Must Dispel Fear

We must dispel his fear, restore his confidence and place our reliance once more in the initiative, intelligence and courage of these makers of jobs and opportunities. That is why I say, in all earnestness, that the time has come to unshackle initiative and free the spirit of American enterprise.

We must be freed from incessant governmental intimidation and hostility. We must be freed from the effects of an arbitrary and uncertain monetary policy. And, through a vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws, we must be freed from private monopolistic control.

Once these things are done, the energies of the American economic system will remedy the ravages of depression and restore full activity and full employment.

Out of this depression has come not only the problem of recovery, but also the equally grave problem of caring for the unemployed until recovery is attained. Their relief at all times is a matter of plain duty.

Flays Partisan Relief

We of our party pledge that this obligation will never be neglected. In extending help, however, we will handle the public funds as a public trust. We will recognize that all citizens, irrespective of color, race, creed or party affiliation, have an equal right to this protection. We would consider it base beyond words to make loyalty or service to party a condition upon which the needy unemployed might obtain help. Those who use public funds to build their political machines forfeit all right to political consideration from true Americans.

Let me emphasize that, while we propose to follow a policy of economy in Government expenditures, those who need relief will get it. We will not take our economies out of the allotments to the unemployed. We will take them out of the hides of the political exploiters. The question is not as stated by the Administration—how much money the American people are willing to spend for relief. The question is how much waste the American people are willing to stand for in the administration of relief.

The destruction of human values by this depression has been far greater than the American people suffered during the last depression.

TELLS FLORAL ASS'N AT TREVOSE ABOUT IRIS

J. C. Nichols Frazer Has Collection of More Than 2,000 Varieties

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED

TREVOSE, July 24—J. C. Nichols, Frazer, who has a collection of more than 2,000 varieties of iris, gave an interesting talk on iris at a meeting of the Trevoze Horticultural Society held in the Trevoze Community House, here.

During the past 15 years Mr. Nichols and his father have been working with iris and during that time Mr. Nichols has been in every part of the United States as well as in many foreign countries, where he was looking for specimens.

Attendance at this meeting was quite large, but for the first time this gained. Several attendance prizes, including packages of plants, were awarded.

Robert McKenney, Newtown, gave a short talk on birds he had seen on the lawn at his home.

Philip Moore, Abington, gave a talk on new plant species and showed an attractive and new petunia, Mrs. Henry Parry, Langhorne, had a display of Mexican sunflowers which were quite unusual.

Announcement was made of the society's Fall flower show which will take place on Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12. Announcement was made also of the flower show to be held in the new building of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in Philadelphia, on September 13 and 19.

The next meeting of the Trevoze Horticultural Society will take place on Tuesday evening, August 18. The nature of the program to be presented on that occasion has not as yet been announced.

Addresses Rotary Club On "Ethics of Legal Profession"

A talk on "The Ethics of the Legal Profession" was the main event at the regular meeting of the Bristol Rotary Club yesterday, which was held at the home of Dr. Horace Fleckenstein, Newportville, yesterday. Dinner was served on the lawn.

The speaker, J. Ernest Machod, a member of the Jenkintown Rotary Club, developed three main points in his discussion of the ethics of the lawyer: the lawyer's duty to his client; his duty to the court; and his duty to his brother lawyer.

No reports were heard at this meeting which was presided over by Dr. Webb. Arrangements, however, are being made for the annual picnic which will be held some time in August on the lawns of Dr. Webb, Mr. Landreth, and Burgess Anderson.

PAGEANT WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT AT NEW HOPE

Affair Will Be Presented On Lawn of the Paxson Estate

PLOT IS ORIGINAL ONE

Two Local Charities Will Receive the Proceeds From the Affair

NEW HOPE, July 24—The eighth annual pageant of New Hope will be presented on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Paxson this evening. The theme, of undersea life, was adopted and developed by C. Basil Clunk, of Philadelphia, who has also been the director of the pageant. The New Hope Health Association and the Trinity Chapel will receive the proceeds this year.

These pageants in the past have attracted an increasing number of people from surrounding areas, and the activity has become a real institution in New Hope. Originality of plot and excellence of production always afford the audience a real pleasure.

Mr. Clunk has this year directed a pageant of a type never before attempted here. The title, "The Boy of the Sea," indicates something of the content. It relates the struggle going on between the sea people and the people of the earth. The story is told in a mixture of comedy and tragedy, and the pantomime is affected by the narrator, Robert Kessler, of the faculty of Exeter Academy, New Hampshire.

The scenes of the pageant are largely those of undersea action, the effects being intensified by the clever scenery and lighting system.

Mr. Clunk has used his own little boy as a character in the plot and the story is written around him. Those who have witnessed the boy, Charles Crane Clunk, Jr., claim this lad has real ability in his portrayal of the part, "The Boy of the Sea." Many prominent people have parts in the pageant. Benjamin Luckey, Jr., is the Earth King and Mrs. Ruth Williams is the Jealous Queen. Charlotte North plays the part of Dianca, daughter of the gods. The author, Mr. Clunk, himself plays the part of the sea monster in the production. Other members in the cast are: George Haven, earth father; William Prosner, page; Mrs. Harry Frank, the betrothed one; Frances Van Horn, an attendant; Jean Bredin, goddess of twilight; Christopher Soliday, serpent of all evil; David Bowen, He of darkness.

Chorus groups will be as follows: Sea serpents, Susanna Hunt, Jane Keller, Jean Curley, Helen Smith, Ethel Holzaur, Stephen Ely, David Williams, Magill, Lawrence Ely, David Williams, David Bowen, Jacob Prosner, William Tinsman and Daniel Tinsman; mermaids, Polly Sloter, Doris Holcombe, Edith Shearer, Betty Detterer, Laura Walton; mermen, Helen Ashbridge, Nancy Scott, Jean Romine, Alice Rittenhouse, Harriet Rex; sea children, Nancy Wells, William Frank, Patricia Frank, Roberta Patterson, Verna Funk, Marguerite Prosner, Gertrude Walton; earth children, Phyllis Patterson, Doris Coleman, Esther Funk and Audrey Prosner.

NO PLACE FOR JEALOUSY

Of the agencies maintained by the Government, it is safe to say that no others perform as efficiently the tasks assigned them as the Treasury's Secret Service and the Justice Department's Bureau of Investigation. Each has its sphere and in it operates with extraordinary credit to itself. Why either should begrudge the other its success, if either does, is hard to see.

The Secret Service by the nature of its employment works outside the public eye. It must let results speak for it but has never suffered in popular esteem on that account. Its patience and intelligence are attested by its triumphs and have long been a byword in our common conversation.

The G-Men work more openly and spectacularly, as befits the need of striking terror into the heart of the criminal of the more ruthless and violent type. When the advisability of dramatizing the war on major crime suggested itself, the bureau was the logical instrument to employ. Its success, in comparison with the standards set by police in more limited jurisdictions, has been sensational, but not wholly unlooked-for in view of the efficiency the Secret Service had already led the public to expect of any Federal police agency.

Chief Moran of the latter service denies flatly that his office is engaged now in any investigation of the G-Men. The two services could go farther and assure us that all their energies are going into the discharge of their duties under the law, and that the natural rivalry between them will not degenerate into a state of feeling which can do neither anything but harm.

DROUTH AND PRICES

His own department appears to house some of the "alarmists" scored by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. Partly because of the drouth, his Bureau of Agricultural Economics now predicts early price increases of butter, cheese, eggs and the higher grades of cattle. Prices of these items are expected to rise though, probably because of forced sales, the prices of others are expected to decline for a while.

In his broadcast from Colorado Springs the other night, Mr. Wallace said: "Alarmists and propagandists have tried for their own purposes to scare the consumer from time to time about food scarcity." "There is no likelihood of anything approaching a national food shortage," he declared. He thought also that, even if the drouth cuts the corn crop severely, the effect in higher prices of pork should not be felt for some time.

Consumers in the cities were interested in the portion of the Wallace broadcast specially addressed to them and giving assurances of the coming adequacy of food supplies, all kinds considered. Undoubtedly, as he says, there are those who for their own purposes try to cause scares. They should if possible be identified and their purposes disclosed and defeated.

It is not raising an alarm or dealing in propaganda to note the likely joint effects on prices of drouths and policies restricting agricultural production which, if minor points of difference be disregarded, are supported by both the Democratic and the Republican parties.

ing the World War. When the depression began, millions of dependable men and women had employment. They were the solid citizens of America; they had lived honestly and had worked hard. They had dealt fairly with the Government which, in turn, had depended upon their support.

Then they found themselves deprived of employment by economic forces over which they had no control. Little by little they spent their life savings while vainly seeking new jobs.

We shall undertake to aid these innocent victims of the depression.

For Social Security

In addition, we shall amend the social security act to make it workable. We recognize that society, acting through government, must afford as large a measure of protection as it can against involuntary unemployment and dependency in old age. We pledge that the Federal Government will do its proper share in that task.

But it must be kept in mind that the security of all of us depends on the good management of our common affairs. We must be able to produce and accumulate enough to finance our normal progress, as well as to take care of ourselves and of those entitled to protection.

Mounting debts and increasing taxes constitute a threat to all of these aims. They absorb the funds that might be used to create new things or to reduce the cost of present goods. Taxes, both visible and invisible, add to the price of everything. By taking more and more out of the family purse, they leave less for the family security. Let us not be misled by those who tell us that others will be made to carry the burden for us. A simple inquiry into the facts and figures will show that our growing debts and taxes are so enormous that, even if we tax to the utmost limits those who are best able to pay, the average taxpayer will still have to bear the major part. While spending billions of borrowed money may create a temporary appearance of prosperity, we and our children, as taxpayers, have yet to pay the bill. For every single dollar spent we will pay back two dollars!

Fallacy of Borrowing

Crushing debts and taxes are usually incurred, as they are being incurred today, under the guise of helping people—the same people who must finally pay them. They invariably retard prosperity and they sometimes lead to situations in which the rights of the people are destroyed. This is the lesson of history, and we have seen it occur in the modern world.

Our party holds nothing to be of more urgent importance than putting our financial house in order. For the good of all of us we must re-establish responsibility in the handling of Government finances. We must recognize that a government does not have an unlimited supply of money to spend. It must husband its resources just as truly as does the head of a family. Unless it follows such a course it cannot afford the services which the people themselves expect.

No sound national policy looking to the national welfare will neglect the farmer. This is not because the farmer needs or wishes to be coddled, or that he asks for undue help. It is necessary because the needs of a great nation require that its food producers shall always stand upon a social and economic plane in keeping with the national importance of their services.

The present Administration's efforts to produce this result have not been successful. Payments under the Triple-A did help to tide the farmers over a difficult period. But, even before it was ruled out by the Supreme Court, the Triple-A was rapidly disorganizing American agriculture. Some of its worst effects continue. By its policies the Administration has taken the American farmer out of foreign markets and put the foreign farmer into the American market. The loss of markets, both at home and abroad, far outweighs the value of all the benefits paid to farmers.

Gambling with Food

Worse than this, from the standpoint of the public, is the fact that the Administration, through its program of scarcity, has gambled with the needed food and feed supplies of the country. It overlooked the fact that Mother Nature cannot be regimented.

The time has now come when we must replace this futile program with one that is economically and socially right.

The wealth of our soil must be preserved. We shall establish effective soil conservation and erosion control policies in connection with a national land use and flood prevention program—and keep it all out of politics.

Our farmers are entitled to all of the home market they can supply without injustice to the consumer. We propose a policy that protects them in this right.

Some of our farmers, dependent in part upon foreign markets, suffer from disadvantages arising from world disorder. Until these disadvantages are eliminated we propose to pay cash benefits in order to cushion our farm families against the disastrous effects of price fluctuations and to protect their standard of living.

The American people, now as always, are responsive to distress caused by disasters, such as the present drought. Our platform reflects that spirit. We shall fulfill its pledge to give every reasonable assistance to producers in areas suffering from such temporary afflictions, so that they may again get on a self-supporting basis.

Our farm program as a whole will be made to serve a vital national purpose.

The family type of farm has long constituted one of the cherished foundations of our social strength. It represents human values that we must not lose. Widespread ownership of moderate-sized tracts of land was the aim of the Republican homestead act. This conception of agriculture is one phase of the general principle that we stand for—preserving freedom of opportunity in all walks of life.

The benefits which will be paid under our program will go no higher than the production level of the family type of farm.

Favors Labor Unions

Another matter of deep concern is the welfare of American labor. The general well-being of our country requires that labor shall have the position and rewards of prosperity to which it is entitled. I firmly believe that labor has the right to protect this position and to achieve those rewards by organizing in labor unions. Surely the history of labor in the United States has demonstrated that working conditions, wages and hours have been improved through self-organization.

The right of labor to organize means to me the right of employees to join any type of union they prefer, whether it covers their plant, their craft or their industry. It means that, in the absence of a union contract, an employee has an equal right to join a union or to refuse to join a union.

Under all circumstances, so states the Republican platform, employees are to be free from interference from any source, which means, as I read it, entire freedom from coercion or intimidation by the employer, any fellow-employee or any other person.

The Government must maintain itself in the position of an umpire: first, to protect the public interest, and second, to act as a mediator between conflicting groups. One of the greatest problems of this country is to develop effective methods of conciliation.

Taking a dispute, after it gets into a tangle, and rushing it to the doorstep of the President is a bad way to handle a labor situation or any other situation.

International Affairs

In international affairs, also, the Republican Party has always worked for the advancement of justice and peace. Following the early tradition of our country, it has consistently urged the adjustment of international disputes in accordance with law, equity and justice. We have now again declared our continual loyalty to this principle.

Republican Presidents sent delegates to The Hague conferences and one of them took the leading part in the termination of the Russo-Japanese War. Another Republican President called a conference which, for the first time, produced a reduction and limitation of arms on a wide scale. Still another led in securing the treaty outlawing wars.

In purpose and achievement, our party has a record which points the way to further helpful service in creating international understanding, in removing the causes of war, and in reducing and limiting arms.

We shall take every opportunity to promote among the nations a peace based upon justice and human rights. We shall join in no plan that would take from us that independence of judgment which has made the United States a power for good in the world. We shall join in no plan that might involve us in a war in the beginning of which we had no part, or that would build a false peace on the foundation of armed camps.

I turn now to the basic principles upon which our nation is founded. America has always stood, and now stands, first of all, for human rights, for "the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" of the great declaration. The prime needs of men have not changed since that declaration, though new means from time to time may be necessary to meet those needs. But the great safeguards against tyranny and oppression must not be cast away and lost. They must be saved that men may live free to pursue their happiness, safe from any kind of exploitation.

One cannot face this occasion and the prospect flowing from it without a sobering reflection upon the beginnings, growth, and destiny of our nation. Our Government was founded to give life to certain vital principles. The people embodied these basic principles of human rights in the Federal and State constitutions. Thus, the people themselves, of their own free will, set up this Government. And it is still the Government of the people. Any change which the people want they can have by following the procedure they themselves laid down.

But for any official or branch of government to attempt such a change, without authority from the people, is to do an unwarranted and illegal act. It is a substitution of personal for constitutional government. If added power is needed, the people have set out how that authority may be had from them if they wish to give it.

This, in its broad essentials, is the basic structure of our Government.

As our economic life has become more complex and specializing some need, real or apparent, has often been urged as an excuse for a further grant of power from the people. They have sometimes given, sometimes withheld, the desired powers.

There has now appeared in high places, however, a new and dangerous impulse. This is the impulse to take away and lodge in the Chief Executive, without the people's consent, the powers which they have kept in their State government, or which they have reserved in themselves.

In its ultimate effect upon the welfare of the whole people, this, then, is the most important question now before us; Shall we continue to delegate more and more power to the Chief Executive or do we desire to preserve the American form of government? Shall we continue to recognize that certain rights reside with the people, in effect, that certain powers are reserved for the States, and that certain functions are delegated to the Federal Government?

Now I know that many of us, at one time or another, have become dissatisfied and impatient with the efforts of our local and State administrations to solve our difficulties. At such times it has seemed to us that only a larger, more powerful unit of government could meet the need.

For those who have followed such a line of reasoning I have the understanding that comes from experience. As a young man I was attracted to the idea of centralizing in the Federal Government full power to correct the abuses growing out of a more complex social order. When the people rejected this alternative, I was as disappointed as anyone. But in spite of this rejection, I have lived to see many of those abuses substantially corrected by the 48 State legislatures in their fields and by the Federal Government in its field of interstate commerce.

More recently, as a small independent oil producer, I saw my industry ask for Federal regulation because of a selfish exploitation of a natural resource which, once wasted, cannot be replaced. When Federal regulation failed, the industry made progress in the solution of the problem by turning to State action, supplemented with interstate compacts as provided by the amazing foresight of the makers of the Constitution.

It is not my belief that the Constitution is above change. The people have the right, by the means they have prescribed, to change their form of government to fit their wishes. If they could not do this, they would not be free. But change must come by and through the people and not by usurpation. Changes should come openly, after full and free discussion, and after full opportunity for the people to express their will.

The Republican Party, however, does not believe that the people wish to abandon the American form of government.

We propose to maintain the constitutional balance of power between the States and the Federal Government.

Against Monopoly

We propose to use the full power of the Federal Government to break up private monopolies and to eliminate private monopolistic practices.

In other words, the Republican Party proposes to restore and to maintain a free competitive system—a system under which, and only under which, can there be independence, equality of opportunity, and work for all.

A free competitive system is necessary to a free government. Neither political nor civil liberty long survives the loss of economic liberty. Each and all of these liberties, with the precious human rights they involve, must be preserved intact and inviolate.

If I am elected Chief Executive of this nation I propose to restore our Government to an efficient as well as constitutional basis.

I shall call to my aid those men best qualified to conduct the public business—and I mean just that.

I shall stand back of them.

I shall hold them responsible for doing their jobs.

I shall co-operate wholeheartedly with Congress in an effective reorganization of the numerous Government agencies, to get rid of those that are not necessary, to eliminate duplication, to insure better administration, and to save the taxpayers' money.

I hold that it is the right of our people to have their greatest public service enterprise—their Government—well administered.

These are some of the aims and proposals of a Republican administration that would enter office under a pledge to conduct the public business with honesty, frugality, courage and common sense.

Visions New America

In common with all my countrymen, I look forward to the America that is to be.

It should be a nation in which the old wrong things are going out and the new right things are coming in.

It should be a country which produces more and more until there is plenty of all, with a fair chance for all to earn their share.

It should be a land in which equal opportunity shall prevail and special privilege shall have no place.

It should be an America that shall bring to bear the whole of her great spiritual force in a common effort to drive the curse of war from the earth; an America that, for the sake of all mankind as well as ourselves, shall never lose the faith that human freedom is a practical ideal.

It is in these aims and in these works that I vision the manifest destiny of America. Everything we need for their realization we can find. I firmly believe, within the principles under which this nation has grown to greatness. God grant us, one and all, the strength and the wisdom to do our part in bringing these things to pass.

CASTOR TONIGHT MEETS RITACCO IN PHILA. ARENA

Chester Castor, Bristol's 112-pound champion, will mingle with Adolph Ritacco, Philadelphia champion, in the star bout of a card arranged for the benefit of the Milk Fund for children at Mayfair Park, Frankford, tonight.

Ritacco and Castor fought one of the most sensational battles a few weeks ago, at the Corsac Field, Philadelphia, and the decision was so unpopular that the fans hooted and booed for some time.

Castor, a greatly improved lad, surprised the champ with his style of milling and made him break ground repeatedly. He had the champ reeling from post to post in the last round, cutting his upper lip that required four stitches to close.

Castor, who has been doing all his boxing out of town, is in great demand at present, and had to turn down several good offers, so as to get in tip-top shape for this scrap. He has been signed up to box at three clubs next week, battling Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, and incidentally the wind-up in each. He also has received an offer to battle at Johnson City, New York, July 29th, and at Reading, Pa., August 3rd.

Castor has been in secret training for the past two weeks, under the guidance of Mickey Gioron, and is fit to put up the best battle of his career. He is looking forward to bringing to Bristol the first champion in boxing to hold a title. Castor in his last fights has fought Tony Aiello, twice, Adolph Ritacco and Johnny Ferraro, all champions in their respective districts.

— RECIPES —

Boston Baked Beans

One quart navy or pea beans, three-fourths pound salt pork, one-third cup molasses, one tablespoon salt, three tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon mustard, boiling water as needed, one-half teaspoon baking soda.

Pick over the beans and soak overnight in cold water. In the morning, drain and cover with fresh water containing baking soda. Cook slowly, simmering beans from 10 to 15 minutes. Drain the beans and rinse in cold water. Scald the pork and cut into thin slices. Pour the beans into a pot and place a layer of pork every half inch using the beans to bury the pork. Mix the salt, sugar, mustard, molasses and cup of boiling water and pour over beans. Add additional water to cover beans. Cover the pot and bake steadily for six hours in a slow oven at 250 degrees F. Uncover during the last half hour of baking so as to brown. Add water when beans seem dry.

Boston Brown Bread

One cup cornmeal, one cup graham flour, one cup rye flour, three-fourths cup molasses, one and one-half cups sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, and stir in the remaining ingredients. Put rounds of greased paper in bottom of one-pound baking powder tins. Grease the sides of the tins and fill two-thirds full. Steam two and one-half hours. To steam: Place the tins on a rack inside a kettle. Add warm water to half the height of the mold. Cover the kettle, and let water come to a boil. Boil gently from one to two hours or until bread is done. More water may have to be added from time to time.

HIBS NEARLY LOSE RECORD; GAME ENDS TIE

The Hibs, proud possessors of a 19-game winning streak, had a very narrow escape from losing their record, last night, when going into the last half of the seventh inning of their game with the Oddies. The Oddies had a 4 to 2 edge and up until this time, Harry Munster had allowed them but four hits, two of them being close plays at first base. The game ended 4 to 4.

Things began to happen in the seventh. Sullivan worked Munster for a pass. Zeffries singled through Benny Paul, Sullivan going to third. Eastlack scored both runners with a hit over second, slow fielding allowing Zeffries to count. Eastlack went to second on the throw to the plate. McGinley rolled out to Munster, Eastlack going to third. Jake Paul was sent to the hill for the Oddies. Paul passed Thompson. Ennis hit to Ritter and Eastlack died at the plate. Thompson was also out at third, but Cooper dropped the ball. Roe hit to Ritter who forced Ennis at second, finishing the fray.

A close play at the plate in the first half of the seventh proved disastrous to the Radcliffe street boys. Andy Pfaffenrath, first batter up, was given a free ride to first. Fred Hibbs sacrificed him to second. G. Ritter was also passed. Andy went to third on a passed ball. On another passed ball which hit the backstop, Andy tried to count but was called out on a close play, Clay to Ennis.

Dave Ennis did the mound work for the Hibernians and held the Oddies to five hits. The Oddies started Munster and replaced him with Jake Paul in the final stanza. The Hibs had six hits, with Billy Thompson continuing his batting streak with two safeties.

WHITE ELEPHANTS TIE THIRD WARD NINE, 3-3

The Third Ward nine and the White Elephants in their game last night failed to decide a winner, and the game ended 3 to 3. It was a hurling tilt between Karl Leinheiser, the 13-year-old youngster, and Bill Hart, of the Elephants. Both twirlers allowed five bingles. The Pikers had the lead, 3-1 going into the third but the Hughesmen deadlocked it and for the final four frames, both moundsmen hurled shutout ball.

Tommy Muffett aided the Warders in tying the count when he slammed a triple with Vanzant on base in the second canto. Another hit and an error by Lake gave the Warders their three tallies.

A single by Manager Hughes, a stolen base, and a hit by Ritter gave the Elephants a run in the second while in the following inning two more were registered on a hit batsman which was Paul Moore, a pass to Hamm, and a long single by Freddie Oppman.
